The Problem We Solve.

In Pakistan, over 22 million children are out of school. Among the most forgotten are orphans without guardians to advocate for them, and children born into brick kiln families — trapped in bonded labor, denied the most basic right: an education.

Our Progams

Why Pakistan's Most Vulnerable Children Can't Wait

The Orphan

Without parents and without resources, orphaned children are often the first to be left behind by the system. Without intervention, their futures narrow before they begin.

The Kiln Child

Brick kiln families live in isolated settlements, often in debt bondage. Children work alongside parents instead of attending school. The cycle is inherited, not chosen.

The Opportunity Gap

Even for students who do reach a classroom, the distance between their world and the professional world is enormous. They graduate without knowing what careers exist.

What We Do

Three Ways We Change Lives

Free Education for Orphans

We enroll orphaned children into fully-funded academic and vocational programs — covering tuition, books, uniforms, and transport. Every child is assigned a mentor and receives pastoral educational support.

Brick Kiln Families Program

We go directly to brick kiln settlements to enroll children and young adults in skills-based education programs. We work with kiln owners, local leaders, and families to make attendance possible and safe.

Industry Seminars for Students

We host regular seminars connecting students with CEOs, entrepreneurs, doctors, engineers, and technologists. Students hear real stories, ask real questions, and begin to see themselves in professional world.

Leave a Legacy That Teaches

Some of our most meaningful projects are funded in memory of — or in honor of — a loved one. Dedicate a classroom, a scholarship, or a seminar. Their name lives on every time a child learns.

“We dedicated our mother’s memorial scholarship in her name. She always said education was the greatest gift. Now, through Lamha, that gift keeps giving.” — A Donor Family

Chairman Message

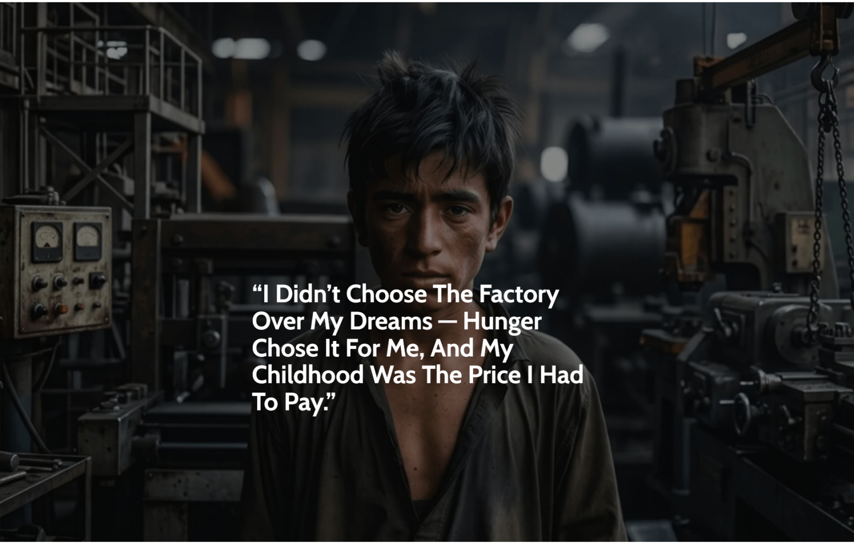
> "Lamha means 'a moment.' We believe every child deserves that one moment — the moment someone believed in them, gave them a book, opened a door. We are here to create those moments, one student at a time."

Empowering Vulnerable Communities

Factory workers often face generational barriers to education. Our goal is to break this cycle by offering completely free academic, technical, and skill-based programs designed around real industry and community needs. Through our Inter-Tech, Medical-Tech, and vocational streams, learners gain practical skills that open doors to stable employment and improved livelihoods.

Impact So Far

In just 3 years, Lamha Foundation has empowered more than 1,300 learners—children of laborers, low-income families, and marginalized communities. These students now stand with confidence, hope, and the ability to pursue better opportunities.



"I Didn't Choose The Factory Over My Dreams — Hunger Chose It For Me, And My Childhood Was The Price I Had To Pay."

Empowering Workers Through Education

Empowering Factory Workers & Their Families Through Free, Lifelong Education

Across Pakistan's industrial belts, thousands of factory workers and their families continue to face limited access to quality education—a challenge that restricts economic mobility, limits opportunities, and reinforces cycles of poverty. At CATS College, we believe every individual, regardless of income, deserves the chance to grow, learn, and transform their future.

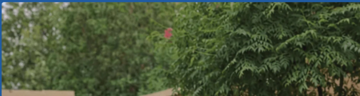
Our Journey

Over the past 3 years, CATS College has successfully provided free education and skills training to more than 1,300 students, including children of factory laborers and underprivileged families. These students have not only completed their academic goals, but many have progressed into reputable colleges, skilled jobs, and sustainable career paths. Their upgraded livelihoods are living proof that education is the most powerful tool for empowerment.

CATS College is a leading skills-based education group dedicated to empowering underprivileged youth in Pakistan. Under the leadership of Chaudhary Irfan Ali Bhullar (Founder and Chairman), CATS is committed to transforming lives through high-quality, practical, and affordable skill education.

With campuses across Punjab, including Lahore (Sundar and Bahria Town), Faisalabad, and Multan, CATS College is committed to building skilled, future-ready professionals. Starting with 200+ trained students in 2022, our impact grew to 600+ in 2023 and has now reached over 1,300 students in 2025 across modern skill development programs.

Our Vision



"To create a Pakistan where every child—regardless of background—has access to quality skill education, financial independence, and a dignified future."

- Millions of children in Pakistan dream of education but fail due to poverty, lack of opportunity, and limited access to modern skills.
- Many students cannot afford fees, books, or transport.
- Thousands of talented youth remain unemployed due to lack of skills.
- Families remain trapped in generational poverty.
- We work specifically with deserving and financially challenged students who want education but have no means to support themselves.
